

January 2026: The Digital Shifts No One Can Ignore

Jan 29, 2026

The Future of Court Technology Is Already Here

That's why we built CaseHub.
Streamline the boring stuff.

The image shows a laptop screen displaying a calendar view for August 2025. The calendar lists several court hearings with details such as time, location, and participants. A green arrow points from the text 'Streamline the boring stuff.' to the laptop screen, indicating that CaseHub is used to manage these court-related tasks.

Date	Time	Event	Location	Participants
Aug 11	9:30 am	Benefits Eligibility Hearing	Room 314	Judge Stephanie Ruiz, Jason Ruiz, Mark Orens, Catherine Tegen, Priza Ginez, Helena Brooks
Aug 11	10:11 am	Licensing Revocation Hearing	Room 314	Judge Stephanie Ruiz, Amy Lin, James Penney, Denise Collins
Aug 11	11:08 am	Workplace Safety Citation Review	Room 20C	Judge Stephanie Ruiz, Taryn Blake, Catherine Tegen, Flora Ginez, Devon Ruiz, Carla Mendez
Aug 11	11:30 am	SNAP Benefits Hearing	Room 3	Judge Stephanie Ruiz, Jason Ruiz, Taryn Blake, Catherine Tegen, Flora Ginez, Devon Ruiz, Carla Mendez
Aug 11	1:43 pm	Environmental Compliance Citation Hearing	Room 3	Judge Stephanie Ruiz, Catherine Tegen

In 2026, court technology is no longer about experiments—it's about execution. AI-assisted case intake, automated workflows, modern security, and user-friendly public portals are changing how justice is delivered. We break down the five most important court tech trends and how agencies can adopt them without overwhelming teams or budgets.

See what's changing in court technology this year

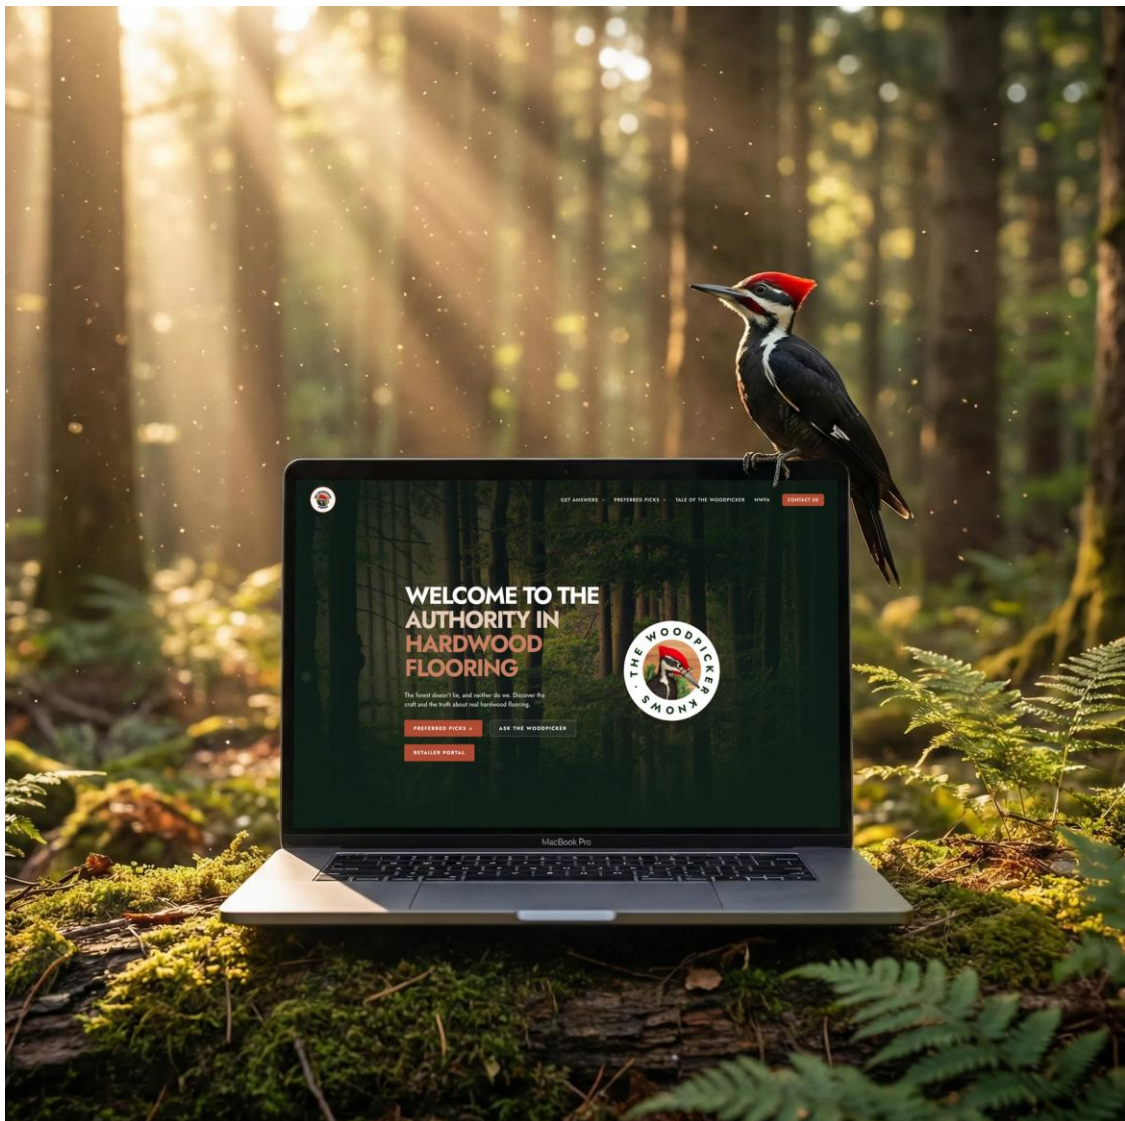

The Secret Sauce Behind Digital Manufacturing

Digital manufacturing success depends on more than advanced technology—it requires strong cross-functional collaboration across teams. In our latest blog, we explore how aligning operations, IT, engineering, and leadership helps manufacturers break silos, streamline workflows, and accelerate digital transformation.

See how collaboration powers smarter manufacturing

Crafted with Purpose: The Woodpicker Knows

We're excited to highlight our recent collaboration with The Blake Project on "The Woodpicker Knows." Our team provided end-to-end support, including product management, design, and development, to bring this unique digital solution to life.

Working closely with the client, we delivered a seamless user experience and a successful launch. This project is a great example of reflecting our commitment to thoughtful execution, quality craftsmanship, and long-term client success.

Be part of the transformation

We Are Hiring in Atlanta!

Open Position:

Full Stack
Developer
(PERN/MERN)

Send Your Resume

careers@azularc.com

More Information

More Information
www.azularc.com

Join the Minds Building What's Next

HAVE A BIG IDEA?

We'd love to be your technology partners.
Let's turn your idea
into a product!

Let's Chat
